" This easy vegetarian quiche is a snap to make but looks great on the table. "

2 tablespoons butter

1 onion, minced

1 teaspoon minced garlic

2 cups chopped fresh broccoli

1 (9 inch) unbaked pie crust

1 1/2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese

4 eggs, well beaten

1 1/2 cups milk

1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon black pepper

1 tablespoon butter, melted

Directions

1Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C).

2Over medium-low heat melt butter in a large saucepan.

Add onions, garlic and broccoli. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally until the vegetables are soft. Spoon vegetables into crust and sprinkle with cheese.

3Combine eggs and milk. Season with salt and pepper.

Stir in melted butter. Pour egg mixture over vegetables and cheese.

4Bake in preheated oven for 30 minutes, or until center has set.

I have this set of Halogen bulbs from another project left over. They are now for sale $100.00 which is less than I paid for them. Contact Tim if interested please. N2vzd@aol.com

TIM'S TECH TIME AND RAMBLIN'S

This month I would like to tell you a story about my 62 Lakewood Monza wagon. It has a weird past. It started with someone buying it on E Bay supposedly in a lot better shape than it was when delivered. So it was stuffed in a corner waiting for a way to get some of his money back. It became a place for 3 dogs to sleep against , and to pile things on. , It had a 140 motor in it , not looking that good. So eventually it was used as partial payment for a lot of work on another vehicle minus the motor , and wheels with tires. It did have a bunch of new parts tossed in the back. SO I put Hands wheels on it , built one of my motors and transaxles for it. Then I had to generate ownership papers for it , it came to me with no documents.. I got thru that OK. A new interior , and a lot of work doing a crude but safe floor and all brake system parts. Installed a gas heater. I wanted it to be a comfortable reliable car to enjoy anywhere. After I finished it , I was going to drive it to a meeting , when Rita said the car was too noisy inside and did not want to ride in it. I was instantly devastated. A friend found a buyer quickly in North Carolina.. (2015). A few years later the car became for sale in Alabama. I resisted it several times , (had motor and transmission issues?). I bought it back cheap as is . Phil picked it up for me.. When I got it a lot of sins had been committed to it. I fixed the transmission , built another motor for it, and replaced again the faded rear carpet. It suffered more rust damage , and a few parts downgraded , but I am almost done with it now. It is registered and insured again. The dash has been damaged cosmetically by removal without considering covering steering etc. So I have more details to do yet. I cant believe what happened , but I hope to keep and enjoy it while fixing things again. IF you do not know whets going on with a car , please do not tear into it without good help. A simple rag on the column would have saved a lot of hard work. here are a few pictures from beginning to now.

That's it for now From Tim in Memphis (NY).
